Dear Sirs:

I have received your favor of November 17th, notifying me in my official capacity that a package mailed to this Society will be delivered by you to a bearer sent by us who shall carry duly signed by us the form of receipt sent by you, and in addition the sum of 50 cents, to compensate you for your doubtless excellent services. The treasury of this Society would not seriously feel the burden of paying the 50 cents. On the other hand, the necessity of sending a special messenger, with the expenditure of time involved, seems an undesirable burden to be imposed by the German postal authorities who, by accepting the package, engage, in consideration of the postage, to convey it, without further expense, to its ultimate address. I trust that you will consider it not as discourtesy, but as simply a desire for scientific knowledge that induces me to ask you kindly to explain to me what seemed to be the peculiarities in the procedure you regard as necessary.

I am, Sirs, with great respect,

Yours very truly,
